

PEACE AT ANDERSON WHEN MILL REOPENS

With Soldiers on Guard, Equinox Resumes Operations and Ejectments are Served—No Violence.

Staff Correspondent, The State.
Anderson, Nov. 13.—The Equinox mill resumed operation this morning, after a suspension continuing since August 31, with five companies of the Coast artillery camped in the mill yard and one company constantly on guard duty. The only jarring note came from the machinery as it went to work after six weeks' layoff. A crowd collected to jeer at the employees returning to work as they entered the grounds of the plant but there was no attempt at violence. The hoots, jeers and cries of "scab" were more vehemently uttered by the women the females of the species coming to the support of Kipling in proving more dead than the male, vocally at least.

Approximately 50 employees went to work when the mill started this morning and 20 more were busy when it closed this evening. The mill authorities expect to have 100 at work tomorrow morning. Only the carding and spinning departments were in operation today on account of the reduced number of employees available. The complement of the mill is 350 and more than 500 are employed when the night and day shift man the mill at its full capacity.

The work of serving the writs of ejectment proceeded today, the magistrate's constables performing the duty without assistance from the militia. Three writs were served without incident, the occupants of the houses looking on as the constables moved their household effects into the street. A fourth writ will be served tomorrow morning. This house is located some 500 yards from a public road and as the law requires that the household goods be placed in the public street it will be necessary to secure conveyances to haul the furniture to the road.

Additional writs of ejectment were issued by Magistrate Cox today. The work of serving these will begin at the Gluck mill tomorrow. It is understood that some of the strikers have already vacated the houses and no trouble is anticipated in successfully serving these. The cases are being heard by the magistrates at the rate of two each day, but none will be heard tomorrow, the next cases being scheduled for Wednesday.

Private William Nelson of the Fourth company, Jonesville, underwent an operation for appendicitis at an Anderson hospital this morning. Tonight the hospital authorities report his condition as very satisfactory. He was stricken shortly after reaching Anderson and his condition became so alarming early this morning that he was rushed to the hospital for an operation. His home is in Union. The health of the camp is excellent, no other sickness having been reported. The hospital detail has been called on to patch up minor cuts and bruises. One private suffered a painful wound by experimenting with his hand to see if his bayonet was sharp. It was.

A number of Anderson people drove to the Glenn Street school for battalion parade this afternoon. The Greenville, Gaffney, Greenwood and Jonesville companies paraded. Spartanburg being on duty guard. The men presented a splendid appearance and showed the result of conscientious drill. Anderson folk have placed the sign of approval on the Coast artillery as "regular soldiers" and this is praise from Sir Hubert for Anderson has three companies in the National Guard serving on the border and Lieut. Col. P. K. McCully of the First regiment, is a citizen of the Electric city.

A football game is scheduled for tomorrow afternoon when the Gaffney company tries conclusion with the Spartanburg company. The game will be played in the early afternoon on the parade ground. Both companies have former football players in the lineup. Lieut. Charles M. Robbs of Gaffney was captain and full back at Clemson and is head coach of the Cherokee Indians. Lieut. J. Hertz (Buster) Brown of the Spartanburg company is lending his instruction to his men. He played tackle at Carolina and has appeared as official in many games.

The Spartanburg company was relieved from guard duty by the Jonesville company this afternoon. Capt. F. M. Ellerbe is officer of the day and Lieut. Walter W. Hames, officer of the guard.

There is much speculation here as to the length of stay of the guard. Naturally this will depend on developments. It seems certain that there will be no disorder with the artillerymen on duty. Maj. Robertson is proceeding in a business like manner to see that the peace is kept.

PERSHING'S MEN BUILD ADOBE HUTS FOR WINTER

Preparations for Winter Being Made By the American Border Troops.

Field Headquarters, Punitive Expedition, Mexico, by aeroplane to Columbus, N. M., Nov. 13.—Preparation for living in warmth and comfort during the winter months are in full swing in all the camps of the punitive expedition, from the border to El Valle.

The tented cities of the summer months are disappearing and in their stead are rising little villages of mud huts. Already, the offices of division headquarters have been transferred from the big tents to a long row of dwellings. Each office boasts a fireplace. By the first of December, hardly a tent will be standing in any of the camps of General Pershing's command.

Whole regiments are already living in mud houses. For weeks the enlisted men in all branches of the service have been making "dobe brick" and erecting little huts. Comfortable one room "residences" are being built by the officers. Crude fireplaces are part of every dwelling. Cold winter nights will hold no terrors when the houses are finished.

Bathing has been done in the open air, under improvised showers, with wooden barrels as overhead tanks. Now, adobe bathhouses are being built, with big grates where huge tubs of water can be heated.

Around the Campfire.
Campfires are beginning to glow for the first time since last spring when the troops crossed the border. The nightly gathering of officers around the fires in front of regimental headquarters has begun again; while huge bon-fires attract troopers and infantrymen in different portions of the camp.

Winter clothing has not yet been issued to the troops, except overcoats. However, each newly arriving truck train brings the heavy underwear and outer garments worn by American soldiers in cold weather. In short time the 10,000 men of General Pershing's column will be completely fitted out for the winter months.

Big shipments of Sibley stoves are expected soon, so there will be no lack of warmth in the houses occupied by men and officers. This camp is situated at an elevation of about 5,000 feet, and the El Valle encampment is nearly 1,000 feet higher. No snow has fallen yet, but the nights are becoming very cold. The days are nearly always warm.

First Winter in Field in Years.
A number of the regiments in Mexico, infantry and cavalry alike, are spending their first winter in the field in many years. Many officers are watching closely to see how their men endure the rigors of this new experience.

In most cases, Mexican workmen are being employed by the officers to build their dwellings. Houses for the enlisted men have been constructed almost entirely by themselves. Material such as roof-timbers, corrugated sheets and tar-paper for roofs and glass for windows is purchased at the quartermaster's depot here.

No provision has been made yet for sheltering the thousands of horses and mules in service here, but it is reported that plans for this are in the making.

Unlike most of his officers, General Pershing prefers a tent as a dwelling place, whether it be summer or winter. He has said there will be a "bungalow" built for him this winter. A small oil-stove takes the chill off the canvas home, where he transacts most of his business.

When the expedition is withdrawn, a complete village will be left behind, ready for the occupancy of any natives who wander this way looking for a home.

DOKIES' CARNIVAL WILL OPEN SOON

The D. O. K. K. are planning for the dokies' carnival during the week of November 27-December 2. The Herbert Greater shows have been engaged for the week and an entertaining programme will be arranged. The carnival carries two bands and there will be lots of music to enliven the occasion. An opening parade will be provided for Monday night, the 27th, and other special features will be included in the week of merriment. The Herbert shows carry nine shows, riding devices, two bands and about 30 concessions. Two high class free acts are given twice each day. The carnival will be given on Assembly street between Washington and Gervais streets.

DIVERSIFY CROPS WATSON INSISTS

Forty-Eight Counties Have Farm Products Reduced as Much as 25 Per Cent, This Year.

"The boll weevil situation has reached such a stage in Georgia that this year it destroyed practically 25 per cent. of the value of the farm products in the 48 counties which the pest has infected in that State," said E. J. Watson, commissioner of agriculture of this state, yesterday.

Mr. Watson has just returned from a tour of the counties in Georgia touched by the Savannah river, where he carefully observed the strides the pest is making there. Col. Watson said that only last Friday some newly infected places were discovered in Georgia and the pest is now in Burke county, which is just across the river from Barnwell in this State. He declares that if the boll weevil makes the same progress next year as he did this year and the last; it will probably reach a line up to Columbia by next fall. However, he thinks that in case he should proceed that far by next fall it would do no material damage until the following year.

Col. Watson was one of the speakers at the big boll weevil conference in Augusta Friday. Yesterday he emphasized his remarks made there to the effect that he considered the advent of the boll weevil a blessing rather than a calamity, because it would awaken the people who are so engrossed with the one crop idea. He also said that with the present shortage of the wheat, oats, potato and rye crops, the farmers of the South have the greatest opportunities of their lives. "Wheat is higher now than ever before," he said, "and any intelligent farmer can make a good crop of wheat during the fall and winter and harvest it in time to plant a cotton crop in the spring."

Commissioner Watson says that even after the boll weevil has come he believes that with the use of pedigree strains of seed and the use of very intelligent methods the farmers of this State will be able to make a bale of cotton to the acre. He highly complimented the work of E. Lee Worsham, State entomologist of Georgia, on the fight he has made against the boll weevil.

FINDS TOMATOES WERE ADULTERATED

Verdict is Given for Defense in Williams Against Atlantic Coast Line.

The State.
Five hundred and fifty cases of tomatoes were declared forfeited in United States district court yesterday morning. The tomatoes, which were shipped from Barnwell to Charleston, were seized by government agents. An examination was made and yesterday the label for forfeiture proceeding was presented to a jury. "We the jury find that the material was adulterated and decomposed, as alleged in the label," said the verdict. The jury did not leave their seats.

The first civil suit of the present term was heard in the afternoon, when a jury found for the defendant in the case of H. L. Williams vs. the Atlantic Coast Line railroad. Damages of $5,000 were asked. The case grew out of a runaway on Blossom street, at Gadsden streets, when a horse driven by Mr. Williams was alleged to have been frightened at an Atlantic Coast Line shifting train.

ASKS FOR ADVICE OF FIRE INSURERS

Committee Charged With Drafting Revision of Insurance Laws Announces Hearing.

The State.
The committee appointed by Gov. Manning for the purpose of "carefully studying all phases of the fire insurance situation in South Carolina, with a view of recommending a complete revision of the fire insurance laws of the State," will hold a special meeting in Columbia November 18 at 9:30 a. m. The meeting will be held in the office of F. H. McMaster, insurance commissioner and chairman of the committee.

On November 24 and 25 the committee will hold a hearing at the Jefferson hotel. Representatives of all fire insurance companies have been invited to attend this meeting. "I trust that it will be convenient for you to have a representative present to make such presentations as may seem to you proper," says a letter addressed by Mr. McMaster to all of the fire companies.

WORKED SIXTEEN HOURS AND HARDLY FEELS IT

Charleston Engineer Now Has Strength To Stand Overtime Work.

ONCE SUFFERED MUCH.

For Fifteen Years His Troubles Defied Treatment—Restored by Tanlac.

"Sometimes while on the job I felt as if I could hardly keep going. That was before I took Tanlac. Today I have worked sixteen hours and I do not hardly feel it, so great was the relief Tanlac gave me."

These statements were made by E. R. Bolchoy, a Southern Railway Conductor, who resides at 629 King St., Charleston, in an endorsement he gave Tanlac, "The National Tonic."

And these statements of Mr. Bolchoy not only describe his case, but the same is true in many other cases. There are yet, however, many, many men in this State who now, like Mr. Bolchoy once did, feel as if they could "hardly keep going."

There is a moral in this which is not hard to find.

Mr. Bolchoy's statement follows: "I suffered from chronic nervous indigestion for about fifteen years previous to taking Tanlac. During that time I have been to a number of the best physicians and I have taken all kinds of medicines, both prescribed and proprietary medicine but without receiving any permanent relief."

"I was extremely nervous during the day and I was very restless during the night. I had bad dreams very frequently and I suffered quite a bit with a severe pain in the back of my neck. I was very weak at times, and sometimes while on the job I felt as if I could hardly keep going. Really, I was in a very bad condition."

"A friend who knew about my ailments urged me to take Tanlac and I took the advice. And the Tanlac sure did give me fine results. I rest well at nights now, for the Tanlac made me sleep much better. My appetite is good, and my stomach has strengthened so that I digest my food now. I am not nearly so nervous as I was and I feel better in every way. I have gained about eight pounds since I began taking Tanlac. Today I have worked sixteen hours and I do not hardly feel it. Those pains in my neck also were driven away by the Tanlac."

"I can and do recommend Tanlac now, and I do so conscientiously, because of the results I have obtained from Tanlac. I have recommended it to 20 or 30 people, who are taking it because of the results I got from its use. Tanlac is a good medicine, and, as I just said, I am glad to recommend it."

Mention a gilded cage, and someone is sure to start whistling that new-bird in a gilded cage. But this picture has nothing to do with the old song of which we speak. No matter what your lot may be, there is a period in life when you experience the feeling of a wild bird in a gilded cage. Then there is another gilded cage, and it's dollars to doughnuts that you never heard about it, or at least you never gave it much thought, and that is "The Gilded Cage" visualized in this story. The Boll Weevil Is Coming

If it isn't here next year the chances are that it will be here the year after and it is just good business, it is just common prudence on the part of every farmer to raise his own food stuffs for man and beast at home. The farmer who has his wheat and oats, corn, hogs, and molasses cane at home will not be hurt so much by the boll weevil.

The man who has these things to buy and pay for them out of a crop of cotton will be in trouble when the boll weevil strikes him.

Now is the time to sow wheat and oats, if you really want to make grain, if you are in earnest about it, fertilize it when you sow and use the Anderson Fish and Blood goods. That takes the "fif" out of making grain. Now is the time.
